The real Boston, however, contains more than twice that number of people, for within a radius of twelve miles from the State House there is a population of 1,900,000. The Metropolitan District is made up of forty cities and towns, under separate governments yet sharing the benefits and expenses of parks, water supply, and sewage system. Boston was founded in 1630 and incorporated as a city in 1822. It was originally an irregular peninsula extending into the basin and connected with the mainland by a neck so narrow that there was barely room for a road over it, and so low that water often covered it at high tide. It was gradually extended,...
