

Right Start for School Successful parenting guides

By Jean Anderson, etc., Susan Fischgrund, Mary Lobascher

Longman Higher Education. Paperback. Condition: New. UNUSED, BRAND NEW, NOT EX-LIBRARY, 80 pages. This book provides a programme for parents to develop early learning skills in their young children in a situation where the framework of early formal education is not established. It is divided into three sections: motor skills and movement, speech and language, and social skills. Although shown separately, these areas of development all inter-relate and some of the activities in each section show how several skills can be used together. Each activity will show, firstly, the skill to be taught, and secondly, why it is necessary to learn the skill. Thirdly it shows how to teach the skill, and fourthly, how to improve and practise the skill through activities and games. Lastly it shows the related benefits of the skill ie transfer effects which will improve other skills. Photographs, illustrations and children's pictures are used to demonstrate the variety of activities which aim to capture the imagination and enthusiasm of the child. Parents are encouraged to participate in the activities to help build up the child's confidence in his or her abilities which will in turn give them a good basis for starting school. The text is designed...

Reviews

Absolutely among the finest pdf I have got possibly read. I am quite late in start reading this one, but better then never. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

-- Prof. Lois Cormier II

It becomes an amazing book which i actually have at any time study. It is actually loaded with wisdom and knowledge You wont sense monotony at at any time of your respective time (that's what catalogues are for regarding should you request me).
