N. biennium budget plus 54 million that would be paid under the proposed arrears payment plan. Source: Compiled by GAO from U. N. and Department of State financial data. Since the early 1980s, the United States has declined to pay a portion of its assessed contributions for the U. N. regular budget for legislative and policy reasons. The 162 million that the United States has declined to pay to date accounts for about 51 percent of the U. S. arrears shown in table 5. The United States has withheld an additional 100 million pending executive branch certification that the U. N. regular budget for the 1998-99 biennium will not exceed 2. 533 billion, bringing the total currently withheld to 262 million. Department of State officials expect to be able to meet this certification requirement and pay this 100 million in 1999. As previously noted, our estimate of the shortfall assumes that the Department of State will make...
