

Social Exclusion of Disabled Persons in India and their Attitude Towards Society

By Umer Jan Sofi

GRIN Verlag GmbH Mai 2014, 2014. Taschenbuch. Book Condition: Neu. 211x149x8 mm. Neuware - Research Paper from the year 2011 in the subject Social Pedagogy / Social Work, grade: A-, , course: M.PHIL, language: English, abstract: Different people look on the subject disability in many ways. The Person with Disability (PWD) are consider as an object of pity, sympathy, isolated or rejected in the family and in society on large. People maintain a social distance and treat disables as outsiders. The development of disabled individuals depends on their personality and the way society treats and motivates them. This will be determined by the attitude towards his/her own disability, towards other disabled people and other members of the society as well as the attitude of the society towards him/her. Here the researchers going to discuss what is disability, attitude, and social exclusion level they face. Locomotor disabled are facing a lot of problems in our society. They face problems in their social, economic, and marital life. In this society of majority there is no scope for the excluded or the one who are unable to do the expected roles because of their inability. Though government has made some special provisions in...

READ ONLINE
[1.96 MB]

Reviews

The publication is easy in read safer to comprehend. It is actually rally intriguing through studying time. I am easily will get a delight of looking at a created publication.

-- Claud Feest

I just began reading this pdf. It is actually writter in straightforward words instead of hard to understand. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

-- Jensen Bins