MOVING TO A TERRITORIAL INCOME TAX: OPTIONS AND CHALLENGES

Createspace. Paperback. Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. 50 pages. Dimensions: 11.0in. x 8.5in. x 0.1in. Among potential tax reforms under discussion by Congress is revising the tax treatment of foreign source income of U. S. multinational corporations. Some business leaders have been urging a movement toward a territorial tax, which would eliminate some U. S. income taxes on active foreign source income. Under a territorial tax, only the country where the income is earned imposes a tax. Territorial proposals include the Grubert-Mutti proposal (included in President Bush's Advisory Panel on Tax Reform proposal in 2005) and, more recently, a draft Ways and Means Committee proposal and a Senate bill, S. 2091. The Fiscal Commission also proposed a territorial tax. Proposals have, however, also been made to increase the taxation of foreign source income, including S. 727, and proposals by President Obama. Although the United States has a worldwide system that includes foreign earnings in U. S. taxable income, two provisions cause the current system to resemble a territorial tax in that very little tax is collected. Deferral delays paying taxes until income is repatriated (paid as a dividend by the foreign subsidiary to its U. S. parent). When income is repatriated, credits for foreign taxes paid offset the U. S. tax due. Under cross-crediting, unused foreign tax credits from high tax countries or on highly taxed income can be used to offset U. S. tax on income in low tax countries. Some proponents of a territorial tax urge such a system on the grounds that the current system discourages repatriations. Economic evidence suggests that effect is small, in part because in normal circumstances a large share of income is retained for permanent reinvestment. Amounts held abroad may have increased, however, as firms lobbied for another repatriation holiday (similar...
