This book began in an argument between friends surprised to find themselves on opposite sides of the debate about whether the United States and the United Kingdom should invade Iraq in 2003. Situated on opposite sides of the Atlantic, in different churches, and on different sides of the just war/pacifist fence, we exchanged long emails that rehearsed on a small scale the great national and international debates that were taking place around us. We discovered the common ground we shared, as well as some predictable and some surprising points of difference. When the initial hostilities ended, our conversation continued, and we felt the urgency of contributing to a wider Christian debate about whether and when war could be justified. (From the Preface). So began a dynamic collaboration that developed into a civil but provocative debate over matters of war and peace that is Faith and Force . From the ancient battles between Greek city-states to the Crusades to the World Wars of the twentieth-century to the...
