CARDBOARD (PAPERBACK)

Createspace, United States, 2010. Paperback. Condition: New. 2nd. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .A university student, Lucy falls ill while on a coach trip in Europe. Ashen, thin and with a thready heartbeat, she cannot understand what is wrong. She is meant to be having the time of her life. The tour leader decides she is homesick. And lying on her bed, she is left to fend for herself. Alone in her tiny hotel room, Lucy wonders what she should do? Is she really sick or just homesick? Reluctantly, she decides to fly to an English speaking country. And to her embarrassment is taken off the plane in a wheelchair. Admitted to intensive care, Lucy is now a patient . And undergoing a range of advised treatments - some harsh and ineffective, others intelligent and insightful - unknowingly enters into a dynamic and powerful struggle over the ownership of her identity, her life story. An astute observer, Lucy invites the reader to make sense of what it means to be ill . To understand why eating has become so impossible. Life so impossible. And as she fleshes out her journey towards a secure, full-bodied and robust recovery demands her distress be understood. Demands it be put into her own words. Her own voice. When it was first published Fiona Place s Cardboard received critical acclaim and won the National Book Council s Award for New Writers. Today, recognized as one of the most compelling portraits of anorexia nervosa it ranks as an outstanding book of its genre. Exquisitely written and winningly readable this novel will reach out to everyone who has struggled with the big questions: Who am? What do I want? How dangerous are my desires?.
