Excerpt from Study of Cost of Machines: Thesis for the Degree of Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering; College of Engineering, University of Illinois, 1912 Material2. Costs of the various items which are involved in the manufacture of machines are so dependent upon the types of specific design that a comprehensible discussion of them can not be given. Commercial designers, however, are responsible for manufacture of machines which are as inexpensive as is consistent with satisfactory Operation. However with machines of given speed and out-put, while the detail cost for labor and material may vary widely in different cases, the total costs are not very different. As is shown in the above graphic diagram, the price of a machine must exceed the total cost by the amount sufficient to include the profit. The profit depends upon the size of the sale made and the rebate given to the customers. The rebate may vary according to the circumstances and conditions under which the sale was made. Therefore the costs mean, in this paper, the selling price, obtained from different builders. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
