Brand New Book  Print on Demand .This is the poetic script of an epic cycle (based on the Wiccan Wheel of the Year) to be performed aloud. It is formatted as a play to allow several characters to perform together, but would normally be performed as narrative verse by a Bard. It can be read as a story. This element is Yule - concerning life, death and rebirth, where we see the Horned God reborn and the Cailleach, the old hag of Winter, renew herself and begin aging in reverse, back to Bridget/Bride, the young woman of Spring. It concerns the nature of sacrifice, and the importance of oath-keeping. It promotes the personal responsibility of the individual to honour their gods and the traditions of their ancestors. It is intended to bring poetry, poignancy and gravitas to the somewhat bald narrative of the Wheel of the Year as the cycle of the Goddess, who waxes older and younger through the seasons; and the God who is re-born at Yule (xmas), grows, marries the Goddess at Beltain (Mayday), and is sacrificed at Lammas (August grain harvest), descending to the underworld at Samhain (Halloween). So this segment of the poem tells the story of Yule, the lowest point on the wheel of the year. The sun has died. Can it be reborn? Be warned! This is a very dark poem, yet not without hope. It begins with the harshest of winters, a winter so bad, that perhaps it might be the very fimbulwinter that presages the end of the world. Everything that man has built is at stake- his agriculture, his society and his way of life. It reminds...
