Forgotten Books, 2017. Hardback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Catalogue of Small Fruits: For Spring of 1868 It requires the most vigilant care to prevent the admixture of varieties. We could so grow and handle plants as to furnish them at much lower rates than offered, but we prefer to give to our customers a genuine article of the best quality, and in the best condition. And we are sure that it is greatly to their advantage to buy such plants, though paying a higher price for them. In purchasing plants or nursery stock of any kind, we have made it a rule not to buy of parties who advertise to sell at prices which our experience has taught us is less than that for which a good article can be produced. Plants left to take care of themselves, and to struggle through grass and weeds into a feeble growth are not worthy to be compared in value to those that are laid in, and carefully worked during the whole growing season. We have no hesitation in saying that one plant grown thus, is worth more than a Dozen produced in the ordinary way. Our plants are grown in clay soil, which is much preferable to sand. They are not left to take root themselves, but are carefully laid in and well worked during the entire growing season. Only good healthy plants are selected for our sales, which are so handled and packed as to secure their safe transmission to distant points in the best possible condition. With our unusually large and superior stock, our increased facilities for filling orders, and the liberal terms we offer the purchaser, we confidently expect very large sales, and solicit early orders.
