My husband was a true redneck Southern Baptist. Since I had met him in the church, he didnt quite fit the description of an unbeliever, so biblically speaking, I was bound to him forever, or until he died. In our early marriage, he believed that a little pornography spiced up the undefiled marriage bed. He believed in calling every woman he disagreed with, especially me, everything but a child of God. He believed in hitting his wife on occasion to keep her obedient. The only time he seemed to believe in calling on God was when he used Gods name to damn everything in creation or whenever I threatened to leave him. He believed in going to the sanctuary on Sundays; that is, the ones down by the lakeside, deep in the woods, or in front of the TV for a football game. He believed in attending church with his family only once in a blue moon. He didnt believe in women in the church speaking behind the pulpit, but he wasnt particularly fond of men speaking behind...
