Excerpt from Thirty-Fourth Annual Report of the Municipal Government of the City of Nashua: For the Financial Year 1886 Money wisely expended for education brings back to the public larger returns than any other expenditure. About one seventh part of our population are enrolled in the public schools and are directly receiving their benefits. The management of them is by law placed in the hands of a board of education. You will be called upon to appropriate the necessary means for their support. Our school buildings are in very good repair. The introduction of steam heating apparatus for the Harbor School House has been under consideration the past year and thought by some to be a much needed improvement. The crowded condition of the Belvidere School will in no distant dav have to be alleviated. I will not make any recommendations as the Hon. Board are expected to look after the best interests of the Schools and will no doubt manage them in as economical a manner as possi ble, consistent with the best interest of the pupils and the public.
