Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****. Excerpt from The Mistura, 1925 The present home of the college leaves very little to be desired. The property extends one-half city block on Market Street; it is easy of access, being only a short block from one of the main city car lines. The buildings were erected for college purposes, and are chiefly of high-class brick construction. There are numerous lecture rooms of large size, three with capacity for more than one hundred students. Each. A large central amphitheatre affords an excellent opportunity for student assembly. The large laboratories for Chemistry. Botany, Bacteriology, Dispensing Pharmacy, etc., are fully equipped, and give the student ample facilities for the best of work. The library, offices, instructors laboratories, and stock rooms are conveniently located and add greatly to the effectiveness of the courses. The College Inn, the students restaurant, offers a choice variety of whole some food at reasonable prices, prepared under proper supervision. As it is connected with the college buildings, it is not necessary for the students to go out of doors when the weather is inclement, if they wish to remain for afternoon work. The present enrollment is the largest in our history, and the students are generally enthusiastic in their work. Since its beginning, this college has had the largest enrollment, the most students pass the state examinations, and the largest graduating classes in the state. In the past twenty-one years, a total of over one thousand students have matriculated here . And it is safe to predict that under present favorable auspices, the Indianapolis College of Pharmacy will continue to grow and extend its field of influence and usefulness. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare...
