

Without Home or Country (Classic Reprint) (Paperback)

By Unknown Author

Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Without Home or Country Alas, too hard is our fate, and too hardly must we feel now the truth of a verse of our greatest national poet, the predecessor of the present ex-king of Montenegro, the crowned bishop, prince and poet Peter Petrovic Njegos, usually called the Vladika Rade, the author of several philosophical lyrics, and of the greatest epic poem in modern Serbian literature (Luca Mikrokosma) with the Miltonic theme of strife with Adam; and of the most popular lyrico-epic drama (Gorski Vujanac), very original both in form and subject, with the eternal theme of all our earlier poetry, that of our people's struggle for freedom from the Turkish oppression, drawn on a greater scale of human and physical struggle for life. No resurrection without death, said the poet in his epigrammatic manner, which made it possible that many of his philosophical thoughts came to rank as popular proverbs and sayings. This is the verse which we most often remember now and repeat in our moments. No resurrection day Without the days of Golgotha. We thought that we...

Absolutely one of the best PDFs I have possibly read. Better than never, though I am quite late in starting to read this one. I realized this book from my dad and I encouraged this ebook to be discovered.
