Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from The Pharmaceutical Era, Vol. 53: January to December, 1920 The influence these recent experiences will exert upon the pharmacy of the near future remains to be determined, but leading spirits among those engaged in the calling are optimistic enough to believe that professional pharmacy hereafter will be in the ascendant, yet. Further emphasized and supported by the intensive commercial methods of a great. Reconstruction period. All present legislation points to the further restriction of pharmacy to professional pharmacists. The Federal Narcotic Act and the regulations for the enforcement of the prohibition law make the registered pharmacist the principal pivot around which the enforcement of these laws revolves. Throughout the country educational standards for pharmacists are being advanced. This movement, together with the increasing spread of prerequisite laws, is a further indication of the direction in which pharmacy is tending. Are not these combined movements indicative of the character of the pharmacopoeial decade upon which we are now entering?
