Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Coin Redemption Fund: Speech of Hon. Josiah Patterson, of Tennessee, in the House of Representatives, Friday, February 7, 1896 Mr. Chairman-it is unfortunate for the country that a purely scientific problem directly affecting the public welfare should have become involved in partisan politics. It is unfortunate for any servant of the people in these halls to be made to feel that his political fortunes depended on his action when called upon to decide for his country an issue of such moment. we are all men, and I shall not pause to speculate how far our judgments may be obscured or our actions determined by considerations personal to ourselves. I will say, however, it is our duty to deal frankly with the country and with one another, and as best we can, and as patriotically as we can, to discuss this great problem in the light of reason and common sense. The issue, Mr. Chairman, is not whether we shall elect to adopt a bimetallic standard of gold and silver at a ratio of 16 to 1. If that was the question it would carry in this House by a practically unanimous vote. It is not a question of choice. It is not a question of desire. It is one of power.
