Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from A Patriarch s Blessing: A Scene From Genesis The object of this little work is to supply a demand in the American Jewish Sabbath School, wherein the commemoration of the Asmonean triumph is a feature that should not be ignored. The children are anxious to entertain others and be themselves entertained, and in default of proper material, things extraneous and grotesque, often profane, have found their way into the Sabbath School to the great vexation of the teacher of religion. It is hoped that this effort will, in a measure, answer the purpose, calculated, as it is, to impart a serious lesson. The Feast Of Lights. Prologue. Ye offsprings of the race who much sustained Of what man s innate malice may impose, To-day of them we sing who death disdained And for their faith and shrine defiant rose; When, like a fiery blast, the good and true, The myriad struck with terror and with awe, When triumph graced the valor of the few, The heathen vanishing like burned straw; Such was the might, the...
