

House of Orphans

By Helen Dunmore

Penguin Books Ltd, United Kingdom, 2007. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 194 x 128 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book. House of Orphans is bestselling author Helen Dunmore's ninth novel. Finland, 1902, and the Russian Empire enforces a brutal policy to destroy Finland's freedom and force its people into submission. Eeva, orphaned daughter of a failed revolutionary, also battles to find her independence and identity. Destitute when her father dies, she is sent away to a country orphanage, and then employed as servant to a widowed doctor, Thomas Eklund. Slowly, Thomas falls in love with Eeva .but she has committed herself long ago to a boy from her childhood, Lauri, who is now caught up in Helsinki's turmoil of resistance to Russian rule. Set in dangerous, unfamiliar times which strangely echo our own, the story reveals how terrorism lies hidden within ordinary life, as rulers struggle to hold on to power. House of Orphans is a rich, brilliant story of love, history and change. Vivid and exciting. Dunmore creates a beautiful sense of stillness .she conveys a passion for Finland's icy landscape . (Observer). Part love story, part tragedy. Dunmore on dazzling form. Everyone should read her work...

READ ONLINE
[4.14 MB]

Reviews

This type of pdf is every little thing and helped me searching forward and more. It can be written in easy words and phrases and never hard to understand. You will not really feel monotony at anytime of your respective time (that's what catalogues are for about should you request me).

-- Fern Bailey

Merely no words to clarify. I could comprehend almost everything using this published e publication. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

-- Lori Terry