Not illustrated. 1922 Excerpt: .through the medium of its auditorium activities and its library period, which supplements the instruction in history, civics and literature. It prepares its pupils for worthy home membership through its vocational activities, through its provision for play and physical education, through its library, and through its auditorium. All of these afford opportunities for self-activity, self-control and self-direction on the part of the pupils. It arouses in its pupils vocational interests and tests their aptitudes and tastes through the medium of its shops, its kitchens, its domestic art classes, and its mechanical drawing. The platoon school, with its studio, its music room, its literature room, its auditorium, and its library, appeals to the cultural side of child nature, stimulates the child s imagination, and prepares him to spend his leisure hours worthily and happily. Finally it may be conceded that all education should ultimate in the development of ethical character. This particular type of school, because it appeals to so many sides of a pupil s nature, because it arouses a many-sided interest, because it offers such a variety of experiences, because it provides so many avenues for self-expression, and above all because it demands and requires so much from pupils in the way of self-control and self-direction, is the best type of school yet devised to develop ethical character. How Platoon School Activities Function in Realizing the Seven Cardinal Aims of Education VI. The Platoon School in Detroit I. Plan of Organization In the fall of...
