Excerpt: . . . little book I had given him-- The words of Jesus. This was our last meeting on earth. He sank very rapidly at the last. A friend who stood by him, asked if he had any desire to live He said, My only wish was, that I might have been spared to glorify God, by bringing others to know Jesus. Shortly after he said to the matron, Give my dying love to all who knew me, and tell them, I Die In Jesus. He then tried to sing, but his voice failed him; and thus his ransomed spirit took its flight. He quitted this earth, which had been to him a weary waste, to take his place in that land where the inhabitants shall no more say, I am sick; to join that choir who never weary in singing Immanuels praise. His sun went down while it was yet day; but we firmly believe it will rise again in a brighter and a better world. Youthful reader! you may be called, like E. R. , early to exchange worlds. Are you ready Remember it was trust in Jesus which gave him peace in his last moments. Are you placing your hopes on the Rock of Ages If so, you need not fear, for to depart and be with Christ is far better. --M. F. WHERE IS MY CHILD Is she not here t In fancys dream I see The bounding form, so full of childish...
