Random House. 1 Paperback(s), 2010. soft. Book Condition: New. (Winner of the Christopher Award and named a Best Book of the Year by the Washington Post, Philadelphia Inquirer, and St. Louis Post-Dispatch) The author of The Eloquent President and the New York Times Notable Book Lincoln's Greatest Speech, Lincoln scholar Ronald White offers a fresh portrait of the 16th president as a man of integrity, whose moral compass holds the key to understanding his life; his Lincoln is a person of intellectual curiosity, comfortable with ambiguity, unafraid to "think anew and act anew." White shows us Lincoln as a man who would leave a trail of thoughts in his wake, jotting ideas on scraps of paper and filing them in his top hat or the bottom drawer of his desk; a country lawyer who asked questions in order to figure out his own thinking on an issue as much as to argue the case; a hands-on commander in chief who, as soldiers and sailors watched in amazement, commandeered a boat and ordered an attack on Confederate shore batteries at the tip of the Virginia peninsula; a man who struggled with the immorality of slavery and as president acted publicly and privately to outlaw it forever; and finally, a president involved in a religious odyssey who wrote, for his own use only, a profound meditation on "the will of God" in the Civil War that would become the basis of his finest address."This thoroughly researched book belongs on the A-list of major biographies of the tall Illinoisian; it's a worthy companion for all who admire Lincoln's prose and his ability to see into, and explain, America's greatest crisis." Washington Post Ronald C. White's A. Lincoln is the best biography of Lincoln since David Donald's Lincoln. In many respects it is better than Donald's...
