

Domesticating the Reformation: Protestant Best Sellers, Private Devotion, and the Revolution of English Piety (Hardback)

By Mary Hampson Patterson

Fairleigh Dickinson University Press, United States, 2006. Hardback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book. While many post-revisionist studies focus on the deeply disruptive aspects of the Reformation's alternative devotional program, Patterson considers some of its more positive articulations. She reveals underexplored expressions of religious dissent by rescuing three key texts largely ignored despite their being certifiable best sellers in their day: Thomas Becon's The Sick Man's Slave, John Nordsen's A Pensive Man's Practice, and Edward Dering and John Mores's A Brief and Necessary Instruction for Householdiers.

Reviews

This publication will never be straightforward to get going on looking at but really fun to see. This can be for all those who state that there had not been a worth looking at. You won't really feel monotony at any moment of your own time (that's what catalogs are for about should you request me).
