Reviews

Great electronic book and useful one. It can be written in straightforward terms rather than difficult to understand. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

Not illustrated. 1920 Excerpt: .to express the same sentiments that Mr. Spence has expressed, I desire to say that if the Sulphite Pulp Committee is to be at the service of the entire association, it is equally as important that the entire association is at the service of the Sulphite Committee. THE VOCATIONAL EDUCATION TEST BOOKS The report of the Committee on Vocational Education was presented in abstract by the chairman, George E. Williamson. He made a statement regarding the finances showing how the funds had been spent and submitted a report by the auditors, Price, Waterhouse Co., after which he called on J. Newell Stephenson, editor of the textbooks on papermaking, to make a progress report, which he did, as follows: PROGRESS REPORT REGARDING THE TEXT BOOKS Mr. Chairman and Members of the T. A. P. P. I: Instead of merely stating what has happened since I last reported to you on the preparation of the text books it seemed appropriate at this time to make what might be called An Accomplishment Report. It is almost exactly two years since the Joint Committee was organized and somewhat less than that since the honor and labor of the editorship were urged upon me by the enthusiastic chairman of the Joint Committee. It was obvious from the first that we were undertaking an enormous task--and it isn't shrinking any. You will pardon a bit of family history. Just before this matter engulfed me, I had planned a series of articles...
