Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.George Bowler Tullidge III was an ordinary All-American boy who chose to serve his country as a member of the 82nd Airborne, 507th PIR during WWII. George jumped in the early morning hours of June 6th as part of Operation Neptune. He was to find himself engaged in battle with German forces around La Fier Bridge near St. Mere Eglise, France. George was wounded during the battle, died a few days later and was awarded the Bronze Star for Bravery. This is his story as told through eyes of his grieving mother, supplemented with many letters from George as well as his comrades. Among his possessions that day was a booklet his mama had given to him prior to his leaving for basic training. In that booklet were words of encouragement that she had borrowed from many sources including the Bible. After George s death, his mama published that booklet as A Paratrooper s Faith. This booklet is still being published today, by George s sister and distributed to all who ask. The proceeds from the sale of Polio to Paratrooper will be donated to organizations that support our armed forces.
