These intersecting st reef also be employed in blocks devoted to business or manufac purposes, unless special reasons apply. For certain whole block may be used. One of the objections made to the plan of upper New York is that the main streets are so close that sufficient continuous building space is not always available. The reserve area in the center of each unit will cover about 18 acres. Details of a unit area are shown in Fig. 2; details of blocks are shown in Figs. 3 and 4. It is, however, underground Protopolis that embodies the most radical departure from established methods. No resident of a large city needs to be reminded of the expense and annoyance due to the underground systems necessary in modern life. The complex and extensive network of pipes and wires represents an enormous capitalization for initial...
