Excerpt from Two Hundredth Anniversary of the First Congregational Church in Middleboro, Mass AT a business meeting of the First Congregational Church in Middleboro, April 15, 1894, it was voted to provide for a suitable observance of the two hundredth anniversary of the organization of the church. A strict reckoning from the original organization, December 26, 1694, - correcting the old style calendar, - would bring the bi-centennial celebration January 6, 1895. It was presently determined to hold the commemorative exercises not in mid winter, but in a season favorable for the largest possible attendance of friends. The date chosen was August 26, 27, 1894. On those days the celebration was accordingly held, and was highly successful, the weather being all that could be desired, and the meeting-house filled to overflowing. The current newspapers gave numerous details not here mentioned, accounts specially full appearing in the Boston Herald, the Middleboro Gazette, and the Middleboro News. The church feels thankful to a very large number of our townspeople, as well as to many other friends who, by their presence, their letters, their spoken words, their gifts, or their other assistance, have laid us under lasting obligation to them for the success of the occasion.
