Excerpt: . . . 11 Through a process as rigorous as is to be expected from an inspector general, we are identifying and cataloging the most significant challenges the U. S. Government has faced, and making recommendations to guide efforts both to develop national capabilities, and planning for contingencies. This process involves substantial re-search; we have drawn on the expertise and experiences of those who served in Iraq and those who participated or observed from the outside. Perspectives gathered through interviews and inputs of individuals are then incorporated into white pa-pers, which provide the foundation for discussions by panels of senior executives and experts from government, industry, and academia. From these discussions emerge more substantial white papers and specific recommendations, which are then re-fined through a review and comment process by the participants. Once we achieve consensus, the final, and authoritative, report is published. Begun in September 2004,...
