The average distance between two points of rest has been measured to be about 100 times the diameter of the grain. For an average diameter of the grain in Mountain Creek of mm this average distance would be 90 mm or less than 4 inches. As the probability for longer steps decreases logarithmically, a step of 2 feet has only a probability of or about 1 in 500. Therefore, if a slot is made to extend completely across the stream bed 2 feet wide in the direction of flow, of this part of the bed load will be deposited in it.
