Excerpt from The Latter-Day Saints Millennial Star, Vol. 94: February 18, 1932 We had grown up together in the Priesthood Quorums, the Sunday School and the Mutual; we had joined together in the fun of the dance and had competed in friendly contests of Sport. Just before we left home, Elder Samuel J. Layton was called to address the Sacrament meeting. He had spoken but a few minutes when the Spirit of the Lord rested upon him. Under that prompting he promised this group of nine boys that if we did nothing while away of which our mothers would be ashamed we would all live to return after the war was over. A few months later eight of us were in England (one of the group had been detained in Canada); and in the midst of. The alluring temptations and lax moral standards of camp life we drew more closely together. In our tent at night we discussed the folks at home and the home teachings. We determined to try to observe those teachings more than we had before enlisting, and to prove worthy representatives of our loved ones. Regularly at night we knelt in a group in our tent and prayed God to assist us. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
