Children, like tender osiers, like the bow. And as they first are fashioned always grow; For what we learn in youth, to that alone. In ages, we are by second nature prone. The ungraded school is an institution dating from the early days of the settlement of this country and in the new colonies after 1700 that institution known as a traveling school, succeeded the old dame school. Under this arrangement the outlying districts were given a schoolmaster or mistress who went about gathering in various farm houses a few pupils who were taught the rudiments of the three R's - Reading, Ritning and Rithmetic. Shortly after 1700. there...
