Writelife Llc, United States, 2013. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 201 x 124 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book. Introducing Red Tolliver and her two very best friends and first cousins, KarlaMae Rencher and Davison Kelsey McNabb. During the summer of 1970, they decide to investigate the stories that have been going around for years about their Great-Grandma Bertie. She s a feisty old woman who people in Carleston Corners whisper about behind closed doors. The townspeople talk about what she does to make extra money to supplement her income, and folks come from far and near to get her service. This service, tea leaf reading, is a hush-hush sort of thing. (It s a secret but everyone knows about it.) Red, KarlaMae and Davison Kelsey have heard on many occasions that Great-Grandma Bertie reads the future from the bottom of an old tea cup. They heard she can cast spells and mix potions. They even heard that Red could probably read tea leaves too, if she really tried! This last piece of information makes Red s head spin with questions. What really goes on in Great-Grandma Bertie s newly remodeled shed? How does Great-Grandma Bertie do it? Does what she sees at the bottom of the cup come true? And, does Red really have the power to tell folks futures? The three adventurers and mystery solvers devise a plan to find out. The plan leads them into hilarious situations, spooky and eerie occurrences and a heart-stopping escapade, which brings them to understanding and appreciating their ethnic heritage. This middle grade novel is suitable for 8-12-year-olds.
