Excerpt from Banquet Tendered the Delegates to the International American Congress, by the Citizens of Cleveland, Ohio, U. S. A The dinner given at the Stillman on Tuesday evening, October 15, 1889, in honor of the delegates from the Three Americas, will long be remem bered by those so fortunate as to attend. The vast dining room was con verted into a charmed palace - a veritable fairy tale. From the walls and arches the colors of the South American States hung in profuse draperies, intertwined with the stars and stripes. Tropical plants abounded, grouped artistically with the hemlock and fern of a more northern latitude, and the magnolia extended its bell-shaped blossoms beside the modest bud of the Northern favorite - the rose. The tables were seven in number, spark ling with a wealth of silver and cut glass, and loaded down with the choicest viands. Hidden in a plant-covered recess, Professor Faust s Opera House orchestra discoursed the sweetest music, and the soft rays of innumerable incandescent lights in colored globes, re cted from the shimmer of the glass-and...
