This is just a word while waiting for Mrs. Wilson to come back for me to go on a calling bout with her. She goes home to spend the holidays with her boys, so I shall have to do what Christmas honors are done--a tree and incidental tea. I inclose a little verse by Joaquin Miller that I cut out of the Herald this morning. Though outrageously bad, the line glorious gory Mexico, is unforgettable. MEXICO Thou Italy of the Occident, Land of flowers and summer climes, Of holy priests and horrid crimes; Land of the cactus and sweet cocoa; Richer, than all the Orient In gold and glory, in want and woe, In self-denial, in days misspent, In truth and treason, in good and guilt, In ivied ruins and altars low, In battered walls and blood misspilt; Glorious gory Mexico. Evening....
