

Stolen Hope and Stolen Dreams: Guyana 50 Years After Independence and Other Stories (Paperback)

By Dr Hanif Gulmahamad

Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Almost half of this book, Stolen Hope and Stolen Dreams, is dedicated to explaining power and politics in Guyana especially since independence. This country is now the third poorest nation in Latin America behind Haiti and Nicaragua. This book explains how this came about and who were the major architects of this disaster. A large portion of the country's population has left the place depleting the nation's most critical and important resource which is its human capital. Many Guyanese in the diaspora still have relatives, friends, acquaintances, and other needy folks, etc. in the country who they are supporting via remittances and they are concerned about the state of affairs in the nation. When people visit the land of their birth, they are troubled by, and fearful of, the high crime rate in the country. This is discouraging visitors to the nation. When people don't travel there and spend money, it is further depressing an already poor economy. Things are getting real hard in the nation. Almost one-third of the population live in poverty and it is tough to...
