Excerpt: . . . exists. Let the body, then, be represented in its three essential parts, thus--Head, Trunk, and Limbs. All Force is primarily got-up or generated by the Organs of Nutrition in the Trunk. When the physical organism has got and assimilated all the matter and force requisite for its own structure and action, the surplus is translated to the brain, for the higher sensitive and thinking-life; or for the more perfect performance of the inferior functions controlled by the nerves. The power is of course a fixed and Almost every function of every organ, has a distinct nerve for its per- formance: hence nutrition is hindered by diminishing nervous force. Nervous influence, says Claude Bernard, acting upon the glands, is capable of accelerating or retarding the absorption of oxygen in the very depth of our tissues.
