Createspace, United States, 2014. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 198 x 129 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Some people thrive in the hustle and bustle of a big city like Boston, and others don't. Of those that don't, some find a way to thrive and survive, and others can't. Some will put up with it as a means to an end, and others will find a solution. Eddie and Taylor Byrne were the all American family albeit 1st generation Americans of Irish descent. Both of their families grew up in the predominantly Irish Southie neighborhood. Now, married with two children, Kenneth and Lorna and an Irish setter named Guinness, they feel that it is time to leave the old behind and head out to unchartered waters. They wanted to leave the hustle, bustle and noise of the city and settle in a quiet and peaceful place to bring up their children. Eddie is a writer. This means that he can move anywhere as long as there is electricity for his computer and internet service for his printer. Taylor owned her own website development firm with 10 employees who telecommute. Her employees were spread out over the country. She asked them about the pros and cons of their home area, and finally settled to move down south to Gettysburg PA. It was rich in history, and almost half way from Boston and half way from DC where other family was. When they went down and scouted for homes, they could not believe what their money could buy. They didn't mind a fixer upper, but wanted one they could at live in while the work was being done. They found one. At the top of Culp Hill, sat the Henry Culp Farm. It...
